

Pulleys

A pulley is a wheel on an axle or shaft that is designed to support movement and change of direction of a cable or belt along its circumference.